

Problem Statement:

Undergraduate students always face confusions about their goals and careers. Sometimes they fail to take right decisions as there is no one to show the right path. They have no idea about their strengths and interests. The motto of this system is to find out the area where they have their own strengths in a particular area. For doing this, admin will ask some questions and will take exams of the students. Then according to the performance of the students, it will be determined that which career or path is appropriate for that student.

Objective:

1. To find out a suitable career for students.
2. To know the strength of the student in a particular area.
3. To develop a career counseling system for under-graduates' students.
4. To develop a system where decision will be taken based on student-ability.
